

CONCEPT X 7.2 LTD

Scotty Cameron's new Concept X 7.2 LTD brings a popular configuration previously only available to tour professionals as a Tour Only model to golfers in a limited release offering. Inspired by the Phantom X 7 with the addition of a sleek new plumbing neck, this precision milled high-MOI mallet comes with an elegant Tour Black finish, a unique cherry dot sight line and the aesthetic styling of a true limited creation that makes this seasonal release a must-have for serious players.

In select Titleist golf shops worldwide beginning Friday, September 15, the new Concept X 7.2 LTD will also be offered in a left-handed version. With a completely new plumbing neck, it has a dual milled stainless steel face from toe to heel for soft feel and consistent performance with alignment enhancing wings that are integrated with an aluminum sole/flange component for easy setup, unmatched stability and high MOI. A new textured Pistolero Plus grip adorns a stepless steel shaft with a custom Concept X LTD shaft band and a matching mid-round headcover.
